

Our commitment to you

At Chase Plastics, we're real people providing real solutions. It's something we've been doing since 1992, when Kevin and Carole Chase independently set out to redefine resin distribution with one fundamental premise: providing outrageous customer service. With sheer determination, a Detroit-bred work ethic and $2,500 in their pocket, the husband and wife team worked together to fill a need for plastic processors by doing something the big distributors would not: provide quality specialty, engineering and commodity thermoplastics for small- to medium-sized applications with great customer service. Today — 25 years later — customer service is more than a value, it's instilled in our DNA, and it's inherent in everything we do. Just as the day we started, we're committed to providing real solutions that aren't delayed by red tape, inaction or indecision, but through a genuine understanding of your business and a mutual goal of helping you succeed and thrive.

Real technical expertise

As the industry evolves, so does your business. That's why we're by your side every step of the way with insight to help you create efficiencies as well as providing solutions to any issues that may hinder your success. We're constantly outpacing the industry and are committed to advancing our customers to help you meet tomorrow's demands today.

- Technically skilled sales professionals with degrees and/or engineering backgrounds with processor experience
- Technical Service and Application Development Engineers provide custom insight and expertise, over the phone or on your floor
- Exclusive Chase the Knowledge Lunch and Learn programs
- Continuous evaluation and expansion of our supplier base, as well as warehouses across North America, Canada and Mexico

Real service from real people

Outrageous service: it's unheard of and rare in our industry – but it's what we pride ourselves on and it's the center of our Core Values. From real people answering the phone when you call to real engineers providing expertise on your floor when you're down, we're here to help you succeed. We're beholden to our Core Values that promote high expectations, character, independence, execution and teamwork. Through these, you can expect accountability not only for our performance, but from the performance of our valued suppliers, so that you're receiving quality products when and where you need them, every time you place an order.
