

Recreational Outdoor and Firearms

Real solutions.
Real Performance.

Demanding environments call for products that go beyond expectations. Our portfolio of engineering thermoplastics is well suited to meet the needs of rugged outdoor use in a variety of applications.

Take aim at innovation

At Chase Plastics, we understand that not every material can meet the requirements of prolonged outdoor exposure. As a result, we have partnered with the world's premier top manufacturers to provide polymers that can excel in the harshest of conditions. We can help narrow down the best material to meet your needs, including:

- Nylons (PA 6, PA 6/6, etc.)
- Engineered polyolefins (PP/PE)
- Acetal (POM)
- Styrenics (ABS & ASA)
- Thermoplastic elastomers (TPE)
- Long fiber reinforced compounds
- Custom resin formulations
- Custom color matching

Count on us to provide plastics that deliver on:

- UV resistance and weatherability
- Impact resistance
- Wear performance
- Colorability
- Low-temperature impact
- Metal replacement
- High-temperature exposure
- Soft touch aesthetics
- Structural integrity

Tackle any adventure

From mountain tops to muddy trails, you need materials that can withstand a multitude of elements. Featuring the industry's most comprehensive portfolio of more than 35,000 specialty, engineering, and commodity thermoplastics, our materials will endure as you continue to push the limits in applications found in the following markets:

- Powersports
- Fishing
- Biking
- Paddle sports
- Boating
- Hiking and climbing
- Snow sports

Shooting sport solutions

From stocks to sights, we've got materials to cover your firearm performance needs. Our materials are well suited for use in:

- Traditional stocks
- Handguards
- Buttstocks
- Forestocks
- Pistol grips
- Recoil pads
- Magazine housings
- Picatinny rails
- Floor plates
- Pistol frames
- Magazine followers
- Trigger guards

Service that hits the mark

With the support of our development engineering staff, Chase Plastics' technical sales force is determined to understand your needs and provide material performance that matches the challenges of nature. Chase Plastics aspires to provide solutions and be your trusted partner for material selection and problem solving expertise, and your solution provider.
