The ChasePlastics Story

Our commitment to you

At Chase Plastics, we're real people providing real solutions.

It's something we've been doing since 1992, when Kevin and Carole Chase independently set out to redefine resin distribution with one fundamental premise: providing outrageous customer service. With sheer determination, a Detroit-bred work ethic, and $2,500 in their pocket, the husband and wife team worked together to fill a need for plastic processors by doing something the big distributors would not: provide quality specialty, engineering, and commodity thermoplastics for small, medium, and large-sized applications. Today, customer service is more than a value; it's instilled in our DNA, and it's inherent in everything we do, all with the goal of helping you succeed and thrive.

Real insight

As the industry evolves, so does your business. That's why we're by your side every step of the way with insight to help you create efficiencies as well as providing solutions to any issues that may hinder your success. We're constantly outpacing the industry and are committed to advancing our customers to help you meet tomorrow's demands today.
